Small Business Superannuation Contributions

PUBLISHED – 3 JULY 2012

If you have 19 or less employees, you can now pay all of their Superannuation Contributions in one secure electronic transaction through the Small Business Superannuation Clearing House (the Clearing House).

The FREE online service is provided by the Australian Government (Department of Human Services) to help small businesses meet their superannuation obligations.

Simply visit www.humanservices.gov.au/smallbusinesssuper to register and you will receive your secure user ID. Once you have registered it will take just a few minutes to enter your employees' and you will be ready to start making your payments.

This system reduces administration time and costs and simplifies cash flow and record keeping by requiring only one payment to be made which is then distributed to each employee's individual superannuation fund on your behalf.

If you have any questions on the Clearing House or meeting your Superannuation Obligations please do not hesitate to contact our office.
